www.idontwantdowry.com

In a novel way, the city-based NKG Info Services (P) Limited had launched a matrimonial web site www.idontwantdowry.com™ exclusively for those benevolent people who would say “no to dowry”™.

Formally launching the web site, Madras High Court Senior Advocate Mrs. Nalini Chidambaram said that the website is a platform, where the brides can find out grooms, who are against the dowry culture prevailing across the country.

The web site aims at eradicating the dowry system, which is a thousand years old setback in the society. The name of the web site clearly indicates the purpose for which it has been formed, she added. “When male members are expecting dowry from their brides, it is good to know that these people have started a web site to encourage youngsters to marry without dowry. I hope all the youngsters will follow their example and not demand any dowry from the girls whom they marry”, she added. Steatadenoma internodal planishing.
